

Mahāmāyā—a vidyā taught to Pradyumna by Māyāvati to vanquish Śambara; it was an astra and one which could dispel all māyā.

Bhā. X. 55. 16, 22.

Mahāmāli—a Yakṣa King in Kailāsa.

Vā. 41. 25.

Mahāmukhī—a mind-born mother.

M. 179. 21, 24.

Mahāmuda—a Yakṣa, son of Devajānī.

Br. III. 7. 128.

Mahāmudrā—served by a number of Rudras: the presiding deity of the cakra.

Br. IV. 42. 2.

Mahāmūla—a Mt. south of the Mānasa.

Vā. 36. 24.

Mahāmegha—a Rākṣasa having his city in the fifth talam (Mahātalam, Vā. P.).

Br. II. 20. 37; Vā. 50. 36.

Mahāmkuśa—a mudrā.

Br. IV. 42. 11.

Mahāmkuśī—a devī.

Br. IV. 44. 114.

Mahāyajñas—five in number: could be done by śūdras without mantras; fruitful in several ways; one failing to do them becomes indebted; the oblation to be offered in the North-east; first the offering of Piṇḍa and then the