

Pārvatīmāya—applied by Maya who noticed the showers of snow and waters by moon and Varuṇa in the Tārakāmaya; warded off by Gadādhara; to the solace of all devas.

M. 176. 25, 34.

Pārvateyas—a tribe; enlisted by Jarāsandha against the Yadus.

Bhā. X. [50(v)4]. Vā. 58. 81.

Pārśvanandi—a son of Sāraṇa.

Vā. 96. 164.

Pārśvamardi—a son of Balarāma.

Br. III. 71. 166.

Pārśvi (I)—a son of Balarāma.

Br. III. 71. 166.

Pārśvi (II)—a son of Sāraṇa.

Vā. 96. 164.

Pārśadas—Śivagaṇas with awkward forms; fought with Tāraka and Māya in the battle of Tripuram.

M. 135. 51, 73.

Pārṣṇigrāha—the neighbour in the rear of the king's enemy; attacking him gives a good occasion to the king to start aggression; a king whose rear is not clear is not to engage in an aggressive expedition;<sup>1</sup> Śiva was to Brhaspati during the Tārakā war;<sup>2</sup> Viśanga in Bhaṇḍa's war;<sup>3</sup> Uśana acted to Soma, as in the Tārakāmaya war.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>1</sup> M. 240. 2, 4; <sup>2</sup> Br. III. 65. 32. <sup>3</sup> Ib. IV. 25. 14. <sup>4</sup> Vi. IV. 6 12.
P. 41