

All of them exchanged greetings. Draupadī spent her time with Kṛṣṇa's wives asking them about their marriages. Here Kṛṣṇa and Vasudeva performed a sacrifice. A tīrtha on the banks of the Sarasvatī where Diti engaged herself in penance.

Bhā. IX. 16. 19; X. 78 [95 (V) 19]; chh. 82, 83 and 84 (whole).
M. 7. 3.

Syānandura—sages of, visited Dvārakā.

Bhā. X. 90. 28 [4].

Sravasa (Srāsata-Br. P.)—a Yāmadeva.

Vā. 31. 6. Br. II. 13. 92.

Srīdevī (I)—a daughter of Devaka and one of the seven wives of Vasudeva.

M. 44. 73.

Srīdevī (II)—born of milk ocean; image of: in the form of a girl of nine years, youthful, with round neck, red lips and charming brows and holding the lotus Śrīphalam in her hands.

M. 250. 3; 261. 40.

Sruk—a sacrificial utensil.

Vā. 65. 32.

Sruca—one of the 14 gaṇas of Apsaras born of Yajña.

Br. III. 7. 19.

Sruva—a sacrificial utensil.

Vā. 65. 32.